SURROGATES' NOTICES

FREDERICK EAGLE, Attorney for Executors, No. 120 Broadway, Man-hattan, New York City.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF HON-Banking conditions in Russia are extremely chaotic, according to Professor Henry C. Emery, formerly Professor of Political Economy at Yale, who returned last meets for Parts.

who returned last month from Petrograd after making an extensive study of the commercial, industrial and financial situation in Russia for the Guaranty Trust Company, with which banks is a question difficult to determine.

A striking feature of the situation in Russia, according to Professor Emery, was the slowness of the business world in realizing that the big figures and the bank activity did not represent sound business prosperity, but was primarily the result of an inflated condition all along the line.

In Germany, the first thing to attract attention of the observer, was the tremendous increase in the annual balance sheets of the banks. Up to the time Professor Emery left Berlin there was no indication of any mistrust of the German banks, or anything to indicate that their position was not both solvent and liquid. On the other hand it was clear that the great increase on both sides of the balance sheet did not represent a cerresponding increase in normal industrial and commercial development.

Situation to $2,451,652, an increase of $223,210. Surptive several larger of the provious year.

Better Market for Municipals

A much better market for municipal bonds has developed since the signing of the armistice. According to the "Daily Bond Buyer," several larger cities have been able to sell 4½ per cent bonds at a good premium, whereas a month ago they would have failed to realize par for the same issues. During the month of November, a total of $19,456.49 in state and municipal bonds was issued, against $17,285.168.
